their usual tenacity of purpose, the rebels, last night, made another desperate attempt to storm LATER FROM CANADA. Fort Steadman, break through the lines of the 9th corps, and, if possible reach, City Point. About 10 o'clock last night, with one of their familiar yells, they boldly advanced to the assault, and a determined battle was at once inaugurated which lasted throughout the entire night. The cannonading was terrific, and at one time during the night it was only equalled by the grand artillery salvo that took place on the 30th of July, when the celebrated Burnside mine was sprung. Rattling musketry followed soon after the cannonading opened, and conm., this day the 5th and 2d corps were put in tinued with great rapidity nearly all night.
